Sempa Power Names Former Celtic House Executive as CEO

Ron Dizy to take the Helm at High-Growth Hybrid Energy Firm

VANCOUVER, BC -August 22, 2007 – Sempa Power Systems Ltd., Canada’s leader in hybrid heating solutions, today named Mr. Ron Dizy as Chief Executive Officer. Effective immediately, Mr. Dizy will oversee all elements of Sempa’s rapidly expanding business and lead the organization’s expansion in key domestic and international markets.

A veteran of high-growth technology companies, Mr. Dizy most recently served as a Partner at Celtic House Venture Partners, one of Canada’s leading venture capital firms. Prior to joining Celtic House, Mr. Dizy served as a portfolio manager in the venture capital group at the Ontario Teachers’ Pension Plan and co-founded Altera Systems, a consulting firm focused on business applications of artificial intelligence.

“I think that Sempa’s value proposition is incredibly compelling,” said Mr. Dizy. “Sempa is an example of what I believe will be the next wave of ‘green’ companies – companies that use technology that is available now to offer their customers both a compelling return on investment as well as a significant environmental benefit. Sempa’s customers are realizing 10 to 30 per cent reductions in heating costs, while reducing their GHG emissions by 20 to 50 per cent - with zero impact to the services available in the building.”

Mr. Dizy has served on the boards of Avalere, Camilion Solutions and Sirific Wireless, FastLane Technologies, Grocery Gateway, Incanta, Ironbridge Networks, ITF Optical Technologies, Nexia Biotechnologies, Pinpoint Local Positioning Systems and VIXS Systems. He continues to serve on the board of MEMSIC.

“We are thrilled that an individual of Ron’s stature and experience is joining Sempa and the new wave of energy solutions,” said Leo Desrochers, acting President and Chair of Sempa Energy. “Sempa’s Hybrid Heating system is poised for very rapid growth and Ron’s wide experience and knowledge make him the ideal CEO to lead our next wave of success.”
